Enrichment Studies at Queen's University Presentation on EMC, SIR & summer programs

The Enrichment Studies Unit (ESU) at Queen's University has been offering high quality enrichment programs to above average and gifted students in Grades 6 to 12 for over 25 years. Come hear more about these great opportunities from ESU representatives!

The Enrichment Mini-Course (EMC), a one week residential program for high school students and SEEDS (Seven-Eight Enrichment Days)-In-Residence (SIR) program, a four day program for grade 7 & 8 students, allow students to study a challenging academic subject of their choosing at an advanced level in a university setting.

These residential programs simulate a "Total University Experience" with students staying on campus in residence for the duration of the program, eating meals each day in the cafeteria, and participating in extra-curricular activities each evening.

ESU can provide limited financial support for students - bursaries are awarded based on financial need of the applicant.
